

1

The fire starts in a bakery in Pudding Lane.

2

Later that morning, Samuel Pepys visits the Lord Mayor but he doesn't listen.

3

People try to put the fire out with fire squirts and leather buckets. King Charles decides to pull the houses down.

4

Fire continues to spread. Lots of people try to leave London by boat.

5

Pepys takes his belongings to his friends in the country and buries his cheese and wine.

King Charles orders houses to be blown up.

6

The fire is put out. The city can start to be rebuilt.
